StandUp Active Stretchband

Part of our Active product range. Makes it easy to stay active, mobile and healthy all day long.

StandUp Active Stretchband is an elastic, easy to use and versatile fitness aid for tired, tense muscles. The stretch band is perfect for stretching exercises and improving strength, and it can also be used for rehabilitation. It's ideal for use at the office for taking a break from work to do a few exercises to improve circulation and stimulate your tense muscles. We include suggestions for exercises with the band. The band is made from rubber and its progressive resistance means the more you stretch it the higher the load becomes, and it's precisely this characteristic that makes it so effective.
